

DESCRIBE ARBUCKLE'S POLISH AGGRESS

Women Pack Courtroom at Hearing of Murder Charge Against Arbutckle

CROSS-EXAMINATION TODAY

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The spotlight of testimony again today turned toward the tragedy of Virginia Rappe, film actress, to determine whether Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, film comedian, will be tried on the charge of murder or on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the girl's death. It is charged Miss Rappe suffered a fatal injury inflicted by Arbuckle while she was his guest at a drinking party at the Hotel St. Francis, here September 5 last.

Arbuckle this afternoon was to be brought from jail, where he is held without bail to a police court for continuation of his preliminary hearing.

The first session of the preliminary hearing, held last yesterday, was adjourned because his attorneys having asked a question in cross-examination or giving any indication of what their plans for his defense might be.

Expect Lengthy Cross-Quiz

Attaches of the District Attorney's office said they have no intention of defense to occupy considerable time in cross-examination and had no other witnesses ready to put on the stand today. The hearing was adjourned to begin at 2 P. M.

Three witnesses who saw Miss Rappe's body after her death September 5, which is charged resulted from injuries sustained at a drinking party four days before in Arbuckle's hotel suite, testified that they observed bruises on her limbs and body. Two of them, the surgeon and the autopsy surgeon, said that death was from a ruptured bladder, caused, in their opinion, by external force.

May Not Call Sennacher

District Attorney William A. Brady said it had not been determined whether Al Sennacher, Miss Rappe's manager, who is reported to have testified before the Grand Jury at Los Angeles that Arbuckle made admission regarding his treatment of Miss Rappe, would be called today.

Arbuckle listened intently to yesterday's testimony, his face bearing a serious expression. Mrs. Minta Dierker Arbuckle, his wife from whom he had been separated for five years, but who came here from New York Monday, sat at his side with her mother, Mrs. Vera Durfee.

Women jammed the corridors of the Hall of Justice for nearly two hours before the court session began, and a dozen groups of men were kept waiting away from the courtroom floor, and women who could show no credentials were not admitted.

Women were given preference because Judge Lazarus' court is largely devoted to women's cases. Delegations from the women's auxiliary committee, and clubs and other organizations packed the courtroom to its doors. A few male attaches of other courts found refuge behind the steel bars of the prisoners' dock, while some found seats at the attorney's table.

Bruiases Caused by Fingers

Dr. Shelby Strange, who performed the autopsy on Miss Rappe, and Dr. William Ephrussi, who made the first post-mortem examination, were the principal witnesses yesterday.

Dr. Strange said he found bruises on Miss Rappe's right upper arm, apparently caused by finger marks, two bruises on the lower abdomen, and others on the thighs and side, the cause of which he was unable to state. Dr. Ephrussi and Miss Grace Halston, a hospital nurse, who were present at the post-mortem, both corroborated Dr. Strange's description of the bruises, and Coroner's photographs of the body were offered as evidence.

A rent in the bladder wall was described by Dr. Strange, who said that the bladder and other organs had been preserved by Dr. Ephrussi. He said he believed that death came from sepsis resulting from the ruptured bladder and that the rupture was caused by some external force.

Dr. Ephrussi said he was called in for a post-mortem examination of the body of M. E. Rumwell, the physician who attended Miss Rappe during her last illness. He found the abdomen "barrel-shaped," he said, as a result of the rupture and a congestion of blood in several organs of the lower abdomen.

The rupture, he surmised, was caused by over-distention of the bladder, resulting probably from some outside cause.

Debate Over Evidence

Miss Halston's statement that she believed the bruises on Miss Rappe's arm were made by the grip of another person prompted a debate over its admissibility between Arbuckle's counsel and Milton T. P. Ken, Assistant District Attorney, who conducted the examination.

PETITION FOR 3 NEW PARTIES

Although only women are to get into the courtroom, submitted to fate and stood patiently on the stairs leading to the courtroom, others seemed to be satisfied and called on Chief of Police O'Brien, demanding their right as citizens and taxpayers, to be given a seat in the courtroom.

Sennacher, who called the District Attorney by telephone Wednesday from Los Angeles to request that expense money be sent to come to San Francisco to testify, arrived yesterday by automobile. He was taken to the District Attorney's office immediately and detained there during the hearing.

Dr. Arthur Beardslee, the house physician at the Hotel St. Francis, who attended Miss Rappe for a day after the party, had not returned to his home since last night from his hunting trip in the Sierra Nevada mountains, from which he had been called home by the authorities.

Letter Pleases Arbuckle

During the session, Arbuckle took time to read a special delivery letter sent him from Los Angeles. He seemed greatly pleased with it.

While the hearing was in session Robert H. Mitchell, Assistant United States Attorney General in charge of prohibition prosecutions, and E. Forrest Mitchell, Federal district prohibition referee, were present, conferred on the evidence that figure was served and consumed at the Arbuckle party.

Mitchell, who returned from Los Angeles yesterday after investigating certain phases of the party's alleged liquor supply, said he had questioned Sennacher and that he had questioned Sennacher and that he had questioned Sennacher.

Three hitherto unknown guests at the Arbuckle party, two women and a man, are being sought by District Attorney Mitchell as witnesses. It was learned last night that the man being sought, according to Brady is named Barrow, and one of the women is known as Miss Lewis. He said he did not know the name of the second woman.

RUSSIA CALM OVER POLISH ULTIMATUM

Trotsky Believes War Clouds Will Be Banished by Diplomats

MUST REPLY BY OCTOBER 5

By the Associated Press. Moscow, Sept. 23.—Newspapers of this city have not commented upon the announcement by Leon Trotsky, Soviet Minister of War and Marine, that Poland has presented an ultimatum to Russia, demanding that the terms of the peace treaty between the two nations be carried out.

The Pravda and the Izvestia merely printed digests of Trotsky's speech to the Moscow Soviet in which he announced the receipt of the ultimatum, expiring October 5.

"We have no doubt," Trotsky is quoted as saying, "our diplomats will act in such a manner that, not only among Polish workmen, but among Polish bourgeoisie, there will be created a tendency to preserve peace and normal economic and political relations. The adjustment of this conflict, however, can be effected only by negotiations in which both sides are willing to make concessions."

"We have the remaining days before the expiration of the ultimatum to make the attempt. We are not excited by this audacious action on the part of Poland, and are ready to carry on negotiations on a cool business basis."

Trotsky emphasized the fact that the situation was critical, as breaks in diplomatic relations often lead to war, and expressed confidence that Russian workmen would be ready to defend the Soviet Government.

"We must not shut our eyes to it," he continued, "but I really do not believe there is any prospect of war just yet. Rumania will not put her existence at stake at a time when she has her hands full of trouble at home. As to Poland, although the situation is most serious, we must not forget Poland is totally exhausted and that her mark has fallen in value until at present it is next to nothing."

Trotsky spoke Wednesday night at the all-Russian Congress of Friends of Young Communists and discussed the situation between Soviet Russia and neighboring countries. He said, in his opinion, there was only one chance in a hundred that there would be war with Poland, adding that the Soviet Government would do everything possible to avoid the conflict.

"But we will not give Poland money to finance the bandits harassing Russia," he went on. "We are ready to make a loan to both Rumania and Poland, but there must be concessions to us which will guarantee peace."

"This Polish ultimatum was dictated, not by the financial interests of Poland, but by the financial interests of Paris, which do not care whether Poland gets anything. What American and European capitalists care is how they can starve Russia. It does not half replace what Poland has destroyed by harassing this country."

Rica, Sept. 23.—A Polish ultimatum expiring October 5 was handed the Russian Government on Monday last, says a radio message from Moscow received here today.

After Leon Trotsky had announced the ultimatum, according to the radio, the Moscow Soviet adopted a resolution declaring Russia wanted peace and was ready to make every effort to preserve it, but warned its enemies that no attack would catch Russia napping.

Russia, according to reliable military formations here, would be able to put into the field in a short time at least half a million well-organized soldiers against Poland or Rumania in the event of a war.

In August 1920 the total strength of the Soviet Army was about 2,250,000 men, of whom 800,000 were fighting effectives. Since then, under the plan of gradual demobilization, the number has been reduced to about 1,000,000, of whom nearly half are listed as effectives. Of these 400,000 are in the Ukraine.

William A. Hightower is also held for trial in connection with the priest's death. Bender was arrested here about three weeks ago after his escape from the Maryland State Prison, where he was serving a term of fourteen years for the murder of a Baltimore policeman.

TRIBUNE DENIES CHICAGO'S RIGHT TO SUE FOR LIBEL

Arguments For and Against Demurrer Heard by Court

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(By A. P.)—Arguments for and against a general demurrer filed by the Chicago Tribune against the city of Chicago's suit for $1,000,000 libel damages were heard before Judge Harry M. Fisher in Circuit Court today.

Mr. Kirkland addressed himself today to technical considerations of the right of a municipality to sue for libel. He took the ground that since the city possesses no trade, business or other inherent earning power it could not suffer damages in the manner set forth in the declaration.

He also took up the question that publications in the Tribune of allegations that the city was in financial straits had affected adversely the market for its bonds. He maintained that the safeguards of the law governing bond issues were such that their value could not be so changed.

He also directed the court's attention to what he said was an admission in the declaration of the suit that when the Tribune asserted the city was "broke" it published the truth.

Atlantic City, Sept. 23.—Membership in the Y. M. C. A. in America will top 1,000,000 within the year, in the opinion of officials of the International Committee of the organization which convened at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall yesterday.

His declaration of the suit that when the Tribune asserted the city was "broke" it published the truth. "I do not know what's up. When Dick left he said he was going to Hudson, N. H., for the week-end. He also spoke of going up to the Hudson Bay country for the winter."

Miss Josephine Stevenson, of Brooklyn, a friend of Kate, said: "I do not know where Kate is, but she isn't with Dick. I have a positive feeling she is somewhere, trying to get a quick divorce or an annulment of marriage."

Richard Fagan is the eighteen-year-old, unmarried, and unmarried, who married April 14 last with Kate Stevens, also eighteen, and principal heiress to the estimated $15,000,000 estate of Calvin Armory Stevens, eccentric reclus.

FAGAN AND HIS HEIRESS BRIDE IN NEW MYSTERY

'Have They Eloped Again?' the Query That Thrills Their Friends

New York, Sept. 23.—The "younger married set" is thrilling with the mysterious apparently surrounding the whereabouts of "Dick" Fagan and his heiress bride, Katherine Stevens Fagan.

"Have they eloped again?" is the question asked by their friends and acquaintances. The youthful Mrs. Fagan went to Reno last June for the purpose of having her marriage, barely two months old, dissolved. A month later she returned.

"Reno is too dull," she said. "Me for Paris in the fall."

So far as was generally known this was the situation on September 16 when young Fagan and his supposedly estranged bride appeared in the luncheon hour at the Hotel Biltmore. He carried a suitcase.

Dick and Kate seemed extremely happy. Dick's sister Caroline, who was also in the hotel, said: "I don't know what's up. When Dick left he said he was going to Hudson, N. H., for the week-end. He also spoke of going up to the Hudson Bay country for the winter."

Miss Josephine Stevenson, of Brooklyn, a friend of Kate, said: "I do not know where Kate is, but she isn't with Dick. I have a positive feeling she is somewhere, trying to get a quick divorce or an annulment of marriage."

GOT NO PROFIT FROM WAR, PIERRE DU PONT WRITES

Denies Munition Makers Egg Nostalgia Against Each Other

Washington, Sept. 23.—Portrait of munition makers as sinister individuals, having a deep hatred for peace and doing all in their power to "fan the flame of distrust between nations" is denounced as a "popular misconception" by Pierre S. du Pont in an article in the current issue of the Nation's Business. The article is a defense of the munition makers.

Mr. du Pont, who points out that E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., of which he is chairman, has furnished a great part of the explosives used in all the wars of the United States, asserts that his company has attained its present position not because of, but in spite of, the wars it has helped to fight.

Mr. du Pont paints a gloomy picture of the financial life of the munition maker and points to instances where after a war munition makers are bankrupt.

He makes the startling assertion that "it is probable that few munition makers gained much financially from their operations. In the case of the du Pont Company, taxes paid to the United States during the present war not only absorbed the entire profit of the company on powder sold to our government, but in addition wiped out all the profit made on these powders during the preceding twenty years."

New York, Sept. 23.—Answering charges made to the League of Nations Disarmament Committee that the private manufacture of war munitions leads the manufacturers to foment wars, E. G. Grace, of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and Irene du Pont, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., in letters published here deny knowledge of any of the activities alleged to have been resorted to by munition makers to stir international strife or exert influence against limitation of armaments.

DEFENDS BERGDOLL PROPERTY SEIZURE

Course Justified, Miller Tells State Legion—Emery Is 'Ready for Spanking'

TO PRESS BONUS DEMAND

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23.—Defending the action of his office in having seized the property of Grover C. Bergdoll, Thomas W. Miller, Alien Property Custodian today told the convention of the Pennsylvania Department, American Legion, that Bergdoll clearly brought himself within the Trading with the Enemy Act by fleeing to Germany.

"The whole Bergdoll matter is a stain on the record of administration of the War Department and a reflection on the Government," Mr. Miller declared. "The American Legion wants this man brought back to this country, and if we can't get Bergdoll under one law, I say get him under another."

"I observe that some of our statesmen at Washington during the debate on the peace resolution, questioned the action of the Alien Property Custodian in the Bergdoll seizure. Let them not forget that an enemy under the law is one who resided in Germany or Austria during the war and who was not protected by War Trade Board license. Such was Bergdoll's status."

Answers His Critics. "When law of right will not suffice, then might is right. This is our answer to our critics. We are not carrying out the law which is plain in its meaning and direction, and seized the property of this flagrant violator of our laws."

John G. Emery, national commander of the Legion, referring to charges of favoritism on the pilgrimage to France, yesterday addressed the convention as follows: "Your national commander may have to be spanked. If he has to be, let us have it over with."

Mr. Emery said that members of the Legion still engaged actively in obtaining a bonus for World War veterans of the Government. "The American Legion will not let up in its activities until Uncle Sam has paid the veterans of the World War every penny of compensation they are entitled to," Commander Emery declared.

Colonel Gallbraith was a man's man," he said; "a real soldier and one of the country's staunchest and most active citizens. The Legion has lost a leader whose place it will be difficult to fill."

Other speakers who addressed the delegates were Franklin D'Olier, of Philadelphia, former national commander, and Miss Pauline C. Currier, of Philadelphia, organizer of the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion.

FEAR OPPAU MADE SECRET WAR GOODS

French Investigating German Plant Where 5100 Were Killed or Injured

BLAST DUE TO FERTILIZER

By the Associated Press. Paris, Sept. 23.—French Government chemists have begun an investigation on Oppau, Germany, where more than 1000 persons were killed by an explosion Wednesday, to determine whether secret war stores and munitions had been clandestinely manufactured there, says a Mayence dispatch to the Journal.

Their inquiry has shown the explosion was due to the spontaneous decomposition of a new product—nitro sulphate of ammonia—from which wonders were expected as a fertilizing agent.

The manufacture of this salt had been going on in the plant of the Badische Anilin Company at Oppau for the last six months, and large stocks of it had accumulated. The dispatch declares this practice "appears to have been grossly imprudent," as ammonia compounds, which were used as the motive power of the factory, the plant also contained a quantity of liquid air in tubes, which added to the power of the explosion, and would tend to explain the extent and exceptional character of the disaster.

Delegation of the nitro sulphate of ammonia is declared to have caused the explosion. The nitro sulphate of ammonia, and then several gasometers, one of which of 50,000 cubic meters capacity let go. This large gasometer contained liquid air, which was used as the motive power of the factory. The plant also contained a quantity of liquid air in tubes, which added to the power of the explosion, and would tend to explain the extent and exceptional character of the disaster.

Mannheim, Germany, Sept. 23.—Desolation and ruins alone remain of what was once the flourishing town of Oppau. The town had 6500 residents, of whom a majority of the men, engaged in the chemical works, which was blown up Wednesday, were killed or wounded. Soldiers in French uniforms are clearing away the wreckage, picking up the dead and injured as after a big battle.

Eleven hundred dead and 400 injured is the latest estimate of the disaster Wednesday, which caused a greater number of casualties in the Mannheim-Ludwigshafen district than the four years of the war. The desolation around Oppau equals anything seen at Verdun or in Flanders over a similar area. Hundreds of persons are digging in the ruins for the bodies of relatives or friends, nearly 1000 of which have been recovered thus far.

Two days after the explosion, from among the ruined-like hole where the Badische works formerly stood, there are still to be heard moans and cries of the wounded, while the soldiers search for possible survivors. Twenty-two hundred of the injured are reported to have passed through hospitals of the surrounding cities.

The vast crater is slowly filling with water, and it may never be known how many victims found a grave there. All mutilated but still living animals crawling amid the twisted girders and blocks of concrete are being put out of their misery. The firemen and other workers have not yet been able to discard their gas masks.
